Re: Suspension of In-Class Instruction

Yesterday, British Columbia's Minister of Education, Rob Fleming, announced that under the direction of the Provincial Health Officer, they are directing all schools to immediately suspend in-class instruction until further notice. While classroom lessons are suspended it is expected that Senpaq'cin will implement a variety of measures to ensure continued learning for students. Please see Minister Fleming's letter to parents, guardians and staff here: Letter to Parents, Guardians and school/school district staff.

Senpaq'cin Teaching Staff plan to support students and families to ensure continuity of learning. The Head of School (Principal), will be conversing with Super Intendent Bev Young on the steps District 53 will be taking regarding the implications of this announcement. We ask that parents, guardians and students remain patient as we work through the many issues related to continued learning under a pandemic and provincial crisis. Our foremost priority at this time is for the overall health and wellbeing of our staff, students, their families, and our community members during this unprecedented global situation. We will continue to provide information as it is available.

Sincerely,

Val Allen
SPC Head of School
